

Resources from past workshops and discussions

Here you will find materials that were used in past workshops that have been conducted by this group and which will also find a more suitable home on the EOSC Knowledge Hub (see T9.3) when that fully come online and is currently scheduled for June 2022. These materials can be freely reused under CC-BY licence and may in some cases be reused by us in various contexts for different trainings.

You will also find here other resources from planning and design stages of the process which may have useful content to provide context in our activities.
